

SOUTH PACIFIC LAW SECTION

In this, the second volume of the Q.I.T. Law Journal, a special section is again devoted to a particular aspect of South Pacific Law. This year the section concentrates on Criminal Law in various South Pacific countries, although some contributions on other matters are included.

As stated in the first volume the incorporation of this section in the Journal results from the establishment of a South Pacific Legal Studies Group at Q.I.T. The convenor of the group, J.C. Corrin, has compiled a bibliography of South Pacific legal materials held in Brisbane, which is published in this edition.

Should any person wish to contribute material to this section in forthcoming editions of the Journal, they should contact J.C. Corrin or the Editor.
